

League of Nations Secretary Reports Progress of Year

Work Accomplished in First Twelve Months of Existence Detailed in Official Document.

INTERNATIONAL COURT PRIME ACHIEVEMENT

Work to Prevent War, for Political Reconciliation, to Remedy Economic Crises and for Humanitarian Ends.

Paris, January 9.—The secretary of the league of nations today issued an official document entitled "the work accomplished by the league of nations during the first year of its existence." January 10, 1920, to January 10, 1921," enumerating the various questions settled or discussed by the league. It mentions first the establishment of a permanent international court of justice; second, the work accomplished in the limitation of armaments, and third, the creation of an international commission to study the blockade, as an economic weapon.

The three foregoing are mentioned as measures "destined to prevent war." Under the heading "efforts at political reconciliation," the document refers to the question of the Aland Islands, upon which the league commission will report within three weeks.

Economic Crisis.

As measures destined to remedy the economic crisis, the report says the creation of an economic and financial situation in accordance with the conclusions of the Brussels financial conference and the organization of transit commission were foremost in the league's work.

Concerning humanitarian means, the report goes on, the league elaborated a series of projects including an appeal for funds to fight typhus, the acceptance of responsibility for opium traffic control, and also the white slave traffic; caused the United States, Brazil and Spain to accept mediation in Armenia and effected the arbitration of more than a hundred thousand war prisoners.

Regarding execution of the peace treaty, the league points out the following missions accomplished:

Missions Accomplished.

One—Administration of the Saar valley.

Two—Direction of the affairs of the free city of Danzig.

Three—Rejection of the German government's colonies and note asking another plebiscite in Eupen and Malmedy and the final awarding of the territories to Belgium.

Four—Establishment of a permanent mandate commission to administer the affairs of former German colonies.

Five—Establishment of responsibility for the protection of minorities.

Six—Registration of 69 treaties in accordance with the stipulations of the treaty of Versailles.

TREASURY OFFERS TWO NEW SERIES OF CERTIFICATES

Washington, January 9.—Offer of two new series of treasury certificates, the combined issue for about $250,000,000, was announced tonight by Secretary Houston. Both series are to be dated January 15, one maturing April 15 and bearing interest at 5% per cent, and the other maturing October 15 and bearing interest at 5% per cent.

The interest rates on the new issues are less than offered on certificates recently issued but issued during the last six months of 1920, attention was called at the treasury department that the terms of the new certificates and the old certificates recently issued bore interest at 5% per cent for six months and at 6% per cent for one year.

For the sum of $250,000,000 issue, treasury officials said, will enable the government to meet the maturity of $25,000,000 in certificates now outstanding, and at the same time provide a margin for expenses not met by current revenues during the first part of the year when tax returns are lightest.

A writer in Oregon sent this:

"Reuben, Reuben, I am thinking."

You are quite a silly man.

To your health I am drinking.

You have done what few men can."

From Navarre, Ohio, Mr. Bland received this:

"I'm the father of eight children and I have had an awful time keeping them in food and clothing. I've worried a lot, but since reading about your big family, I realize that I'm a lucky guy."

The Woman Who Knows Is Always a Welcome Visitor

The woman who knows what she wants gets better and more courteous service than the woman who doesn't know what is being offered.

The woman who knows gets better values; she saves time and energy.

Shopping The Constitution Way gives you a knowledge of merchandise offerings. Assures you of getting the best in value and the most in service.

Read Constitution Advertising
Carefully Daily.

HOLD CONFERENCE OVER WAGE SCALE

Representatives of 2,000
Men Connected With
A. B. & A. Will Meet
With President Bugg.

At 11 o'clock this morning, in the offices of the company, grand lodge representatives of brotherhoods and unions, with which the 2,000 employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad are affiliated, will meet President B. L. Bugg and other company officials for a conference regarding the proposed reduction of wages on that road amounting to 50 per cent of the increases that have been granted the union employees since 1917.

This proposed cut, amounting to a total of about $100,000 a month, has been repeatedly declared by the company officials to be necessary for the continued operation of the road. The employees, it is stated, through the general chairman of various unions and crafts are preparing to resist to the last ditch the company's effort to reduce their pay, notwithstanding statements that have been repeatedly made by the A. B. & A. officials that the company can no longer carry the burden of its wage bill. Union officials declare the effort to reduce wages on the local road to be but an entering wedge by which every railroad man in the country will be sooner or later subjected to a cut.

A National Aspect.

This statement was freely made by a number of general chairmen and other officials of the unions, fifty or more of whom took part in a meeting held by the Atlanta Federation of Railway Employees Saturday night, when resolutions condemning the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic's reduction plan were adopted after the situation had been given a national aspect by references to the pressed wage bill. The auto is liable to be confiscated by the government.

Colony for Inebriates Increases Equipment To Meet "Dry" Demands

Philadelphia, January 9.—The trustees of Keswick colony, a refuge for inebriates conducted for years in the heart of the pine belt, closed up the place when prohibition went into quasi-effect. With boozes gone, they figured, the institution's funds could be devoted to some other charity.

But Philadelphia physicians have so many cases of alcoholism that a new appeal has been made to the trustees, and Keswick will be re-established as soon as its buildings and equipment can be replaced. And it will be equipped to take care of more patients than ever.

Cooking Now Included In Men's Curriculum— Dressmaking Is Next

State College, Pa., January 9.—Men's students at Pennsylvania State college are going to learn how to cook.

The home economics department announced tonight that, beginning with the second semester on February 1, a course to be known as "domestic science 55—cooking for men" will be inaugurated and will include a study of the nutritive value, selection and preparation of simple foods, "with special emphasis upon those suitable for camping."

The men will have a one-hour lecture and three hours a week practice in the cooking laboratory on the women's side of the campus.

Father of Thirty-Four Inspires Many Letters; Likewise Alleged Poems

Raleigh, N. C., January 9.—Since wide publicity has been given to the fact that Reuben Bland, of Robesonville, Buford county, was the father of 44 children, he and Mrs. Bland have been deluged with letters from persons all over the United States and Canada.

The letters are from both men and women. A man in Ohio wrote: "I read the story of your father and I am afraid he is a bad example to my wife. There's a man who ought to be given a medal! I told her, 'There's a man who ought to be hanged,' and she replied:

"No, it would be better if we didn't let him go."

Another man from North Carolina said:

"I am positive that this is not the best method."

Mr. Garrett, in the event we carry this before the railroad labor board, will the railroad be willing to pay it, so far as the actual amount of money paid should be by an decision of the board as far as the means of the railroad?"

Colonel Bugg—Supporting the board decided that the B. L. B. & A. would continue to pay the men.

Major General Robert Lee Bland, commander of the Second corps area; the Marquis Caribrooks, a cousin of King George; Brigadier General Cornelius Vanderbilt, and representatives of many patriotic societies attended the presentation.

The visitors' book which is being maintained at the palace for Prince Carl, of Rumania, who is visiting his fiancee, the Princess Helene, was removed for a few hours to the Rumanian legation today, in order to obtain the signatures of the allied ministers who have declined to visit the palace.

Minutes Given Out.

In the meeting of the Atlanta Federation of Railway Employees Saturday, one of the speakers from the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, according to information given out by a number of those present, declared that Mr. Bugg had stated at a conference with representatives of the men on December 29, that he would not restore the wages of the men, should they accept the present cut, in case of a return to normal and that he would expect to reduce the wages of the A. B. & A. men.

Nor could it be ascertained last night whether or not Vice President McCrary, of the American Federation of Labor, had reached Atlanta, but it is believed that he will arrive at an early hour this morning.

Many of the grand lodge officers, however, have reached the city and many of these, it is declared, will attend. All of the sixteen standard railway labor unions will be represented.

Milk Should Sell For Less, Claims Wholesale Dealer

W. V. Zimmer Declares

Retail Dairymen "Could Well Afford to Sell Milk

at 20 Cents a Quart."

"Retail milk dealers in Atlanta could well afford to sell milk at 20 cents a quart," was the statement made Sunday by Will V. Zimmer, president of the Belmont Farms depot, a wholesale milk concern.

"I understand that many of them are charging their customers 25 cents a quart for milk," continued Mr. Zimmer. "While this price was justified several months ago, the wholesale cost of milk has so declined within the past three months that there is now no reason whatever for retail milk dealers charging more than 20 cents a quart, which is the price I charge to consumers who purchase milk at retail from my establishment."

Mr. Zimmer states that since January the retailers have paid 55 cents a gallon for milk, or a little less than 14 cents a quart. Several dealers have a different opinion of the price, however, and contend that the payment of 55 cents a gallon is the real cause of the recent price increase.

Colonel Bugg—Yes, it is true that you can't make operating expenses, but if it gets to the point it can't cover operating expenses, it can't cover operating expenses, and it can't afford to operate it and the result is just what happened to the Georgia Coast Guardsmen."

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that these other railroads that would be interested in possibly owning the A. B. & A. would really allow to be junked.

Colonel Bugg—I don't know what the people of Georgia will do about it. My opinion is that the people of Georgia will not let it stand.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that

the people of Georgia will do about it.

Colonel Bugg—It is a matter.

Mr. Gwin—It does not seem that met with one of the big trunk lines, held that there was no justification in the complaint of the eastern roads and particularly dismissed the contention that rates were discriminatory on a mileage basis.

In a letter to Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and at that time chairman of the committee of railroad presidents in Boston, the association's attorney, written November 26, 1919, Mr. Hines said:

"Eastern railroads have no good reason for or other excuse for the lack of mileage. The distance to Canadian ports is very considerably greater than to south Atlantic and gulf ports."

Mr. Hines preceded his conclusion with the statement that the basis of rates to south Atlantic and gulf ports against which the eastern railroads magnates were protesting were the same as in effect between Central Freight association territory and the latter three Canadian ports. Central Freight association territory includes the state of Illinois, Indiana, the greater portion of Michigan, and all of southern Michigan.

Significant Appointment.

Those officials who are interested in the development of the American merchant marine and the development of all Atlantic and gulf ports without regard to sectional protectionism as an effort to assist the chairman of a committee appointed some ten months ago by a New York commercial organization to promote action against the high rates to all Atlantic and gulf ports was Delos Z. Cooke, assistant director of the British-owned Cunard Lines.

The committee, which was instructed to appear to the trunk lines association and the interstate commerce commission for cancellation of export freight rates, was composed of all the most important British-owned trans-Atlantic lines.

The present export rates, which now give equal opportunity to all American Atlantic and gulf ports would have the effect of diverting traffic from lower rates to the port cities of the south Atlantic and gulf ports, not so much to New York, which is receiving the great share of American exports, but rather to the Canadian ports of Montreal, St. John and Halifax, Nova Scotia, the latter three Canadian ports.

Central Freight association territory includes the state of Illinois, Indiana, the greater portion of Michigan, and all of southern Michigan.

Danger Indicated.

The bold was expressed here to those who were engaged in the port cities of the south Atlantic and gulf ports, not so much to New York, which is receiving the great share of American exports, but rather to the Canadian ports of Montreal, St. John and Halifax, Nova Scotia, the latter three Canadian ports.

Central Freight association territory includes the state of Illinois, Indiana, the greater portion of Michigan, and all of southern Michigan.

Are Left No Choice.

"We are left no choice in the matter," Mr. Bugge explained. "He then produced a copy of the thirty-one page agreement signed by him under the terms of its agreement with them. This notice, addressed to a number of the railroad roadmen, conductors, but worded, with the exception exactly like the notices mailed to other union employees of the road, is printed below:

Mr. L. T. Bass, General Chairman Order of Railway Conductors, 17 Marion Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Bass: You are hereby notified, in accordance with the provisions of a certain agreement entered into and between the American States railway administration and the conductors, effective January 1, 1920, that the above notices in writing to change the agreement, that, on account of present conditions, will be given on and after February 1, 1921, to be reduced by one-half of the sum of all increases effective since December 31, 1917.

In all other respects the agreement will remain in full force and effect.

ATLANTA, BIRMINGHAM AND ATLANTIC RAILWAY COMPANY.

Atlanta, Ga., January 9.—All general chairmen of railroad craft in this territory left here today for Atlanta, where they entered a conference tomorrow with B. L. Bugge, president of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad.

GEORGIA RANKS THIRD IN DIXIE CROP PRODUCTION

Declaring that the conditions at present in Georgia are the most adverse the farmers have had to contend with in a decade and longer, John S. Dennee, agricultural statistician in charge of the United States bureau of crop estimates, cooperating with the Georgia department of agriculture, division of statistics, has issued many interesting figures concerning crop production in Georgia for 1920.

Drawing his conclusions for the northern states, Mr. Dennee reports he says that in general crop production in 1920 compared favorably with that of 1919 excepting as to cotton and peaches and pecans, these three crops showing sharp reductions.

According to the statistician, Georgia ranks fourth in the forty-eight states of the union in value of its farm products, and third on the list of southern states, being surpassed by Texas and North Carolina.

Last year the aggregate value of Georgia's agricultural products, omitting animals on farms, was $2,369,251,000, as compared with $2,000,416,000 in 1919, and $2,261,000, the five-year average 1914-1918.

In per acre value tobacco was easily the leading item, followed by cotton, peanuts, corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, and buckwheat.

The yields per acre shown above are in standard units: cereals, potatoes, peas, peanuts in bushels; hay and grass seed in tons; tobacco and pecans in pounds; cotton in bales and pounds. Valuation, except fruit, based on December 1 price to producers.

DOWNWARD TREND, IN COMMODITIES IS WELL DEFINED

While the downward trend of wholesale commodity prices continues very strongly defined, it has been lessened during the last week, with the result that the downward trend of quotations, comparing with last week, several important articles displayed much more resistance to further decline. The grain market, however, although still strong, is now more irregular, wheat, oats, rye and barley being strengthened by the passage of the war finance corporation bill, although the effect of the bill is not yet apparent. Corn is largely increased marketing by the farmers.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron, lumber, coal, and other materials.

Supplies of butter and cheese were not much in excess of requirements, and these commodities were held with a fair degree of strength, but the market condition due to high prices, and heavy offerings of indifferent quality, resulted in a sharp fall in prices.

Meat and fish commodities have been made in iron and steel, but gains predominated in the miscellaneous group. Price readjustments, continuing, continue to give a more confident feeling is perceptible in the primary markets, and conditions are also better in hides and leather.

Lower prices and the certainty of abundant supplies of copper, tin, iron,

Under a new law to come into effect in Ontario next September, bridges under 16 years of age will have to return to school.

CUT FLOWERS

WOMAN IS INJURED
IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Police Have Been Unable to Learn Where She Was Taken—Three Other Smashes Are Reported.

An unknown woman was badly injured in an automobile wreck near Brookwood station shortly after midnight Sunday morning, according to information secured from police.

After the accident the passengers abandoned the car, bringing the injured woman into Atlanta in another car, it is stated. Officers investigating the case have been unable to learn the whereabouts of the injured woman.

There were two women and two men in the car when the machine crashed into a water plug, smashing the radiator of the automobile, and tearing away the plug. It is stated there were several witnesses. The injured woman is Mrs. Fisher, the police have been told.

Three other automobile accidents occurred Sunday.

A machine driven by an unknown person struck and badly damaged two automobiles in front of 190 South Pryor street Sunday morning.

FUNERAL DESIGNS

93 North Pryor Street

is where you will find us now and we will be glad to see you.

The Tripod Paint Co.

Cuticura Soap
IS IDEAL
For the Hands

Spec. Agent, Bureau of Prohibition, address Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. U. S. Marshals, Mass.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICAB

Start the New Year wisely by making your money work every month.

Your Savings at this Bank Deposited today will draw interest from Jan. 1.

We pay 4%

Central Bank & Trust Corporation
CANDLER BUILDING

BRANCHES:

Tenth and Peachtree

Mitchell and Forsyth

WHERE SHALL WE EAT?

Thornton's Cafeteria

Open for Breakfast, Dinner and Supper

Selection of Dishes

Roast Beef, 25c; Barbecued Pork or Lamb, 30c; Brunswick Stew, 25c; New England Beef Stew, 25c; Chicken Croquette with Peas, 25c; Brains and Eggs, 30c; Fried Fish, 25c; Thornton's Famous Fried Oysters, 5c each; Baked Fish, 30c; Giblet Stew with Dumplings, 30c; Baked Beans, 10c; Mashed Potatoes, 10c; Steamed Rice, 10c; Candied Yams, 10c; Macaroni with Cheese, 15c; Spaghetti, 15c; Steamed Corn, 10c; Field Peas, 10c; all Pastries, 10c, 15c and 20c; Coffee, 5c; Milk, 5c; Butter-milk, 5c.

THORNTON'S CAFETERIA

Rialto Theater Bldg., Corner Luckie and Forsyth.

Under the personal management of ELBERT L. THORNTON, Formerly of the East Lake Country Club.

SILK SHIRTS
HALF-PRICE

Fifty dozen Cluett-Peabody Silk and Madras Shirts at less than half-price.

Men's $15.00 Silk Shirts $6.75

Men's $3.50 Madras Shirts $1.75

Hambright-Tolleson
Company
14 Marietta Street
At Five Points

The driver of the machine made his escape before his number could be secured by witnesses. The car with which he collided belonged to E. R. Ware, of 1016 DeKalb avenue, and Oscar Weimelster, of 15 Brookline drive.

Shortly after this accident an automobile was found abandoned at Central avenue and Mitchell street. After the machine was brought to police headquarters Mr. Ware asserted that it was the same car which had caused damage to his own and Mr. Weimelster's automobile. The engine number of the abandoned car was filed leading to the belief by the police that the machine was a stolen one.

After a plate glass window in the furniture store of Austin Brothers & Sister at 63 South Broad street was broken Sunday night, a white boy was found in front of the store down by an automobile said to have been operated by John G. Cato, of 248 Stewart Avenue, Candler Park, and on the charge of operating an automobile under the influence of whisky. The case was made by Capt. Officers Lon W. Evans and L. E. Carpenter.

There were two women and two men in the car when the machine crashed into a water plug, smashing the radiator of the automobile, and tearing away the plug. It is stated there were several witnesses. The injured woman is Mrs. Fisher, the police have been told.

Three other automobile accidents occurred Sunday.

A machine driven by an unknown person struck and badly damaged two automobiles in front of 190 South Pryor street Sunday morning.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him to a Whitehall street store, which he asserted that she entered before visiting the five and dime store. Subsequently he turned over to a professional bondsman, P. P. Jackson, who, she claims, extorted money from her.

Subsequent to the dismissal of charges against her, Detective Young threatened to swear out a warrant for her arrest, and she fled with him

THE CONSTITUTION

The Standard Southern Newspaper.

Published Daily. Sunday. Tri-Weekly.

CLARK HOWELL

Editor and General Manager.

Directors: Clark Howell, Roy Robins, Albert Howell, Jr., E. E. Black, H. W. Gray.

Entered at the post office at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone Main 5000.

ATLANTA, GA., January 10, 1921.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Daily and	1 wk. 1 Mo. 8 Mo. 1 yr.
Sunday ... 20c	90c 2.00 4.00 7.50
Monthly ... 10c	40c 1.00 1.75 2.50
Single Copies—Daily, 5c. Sunday—10c.

J. E. HOLLOWAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

The Constitution is at Newell House, corner of Peachtree and Peachtree Street, building corner; Thirty-Eighth street and Broadway, and Twenty-Ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Constitution is exclusively entitled to the use of publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

THE LIBRARY'S NEEDS.

The Carnegie library budget for 1921 calls for the expenditure of only $67,515 in the purchase of necessary new books and equipment, and in the maintenance of the city's library plant.

Consideration of this budget is set by the finance committee of council for next Tuesday afternoon; and it is earnestly to be hoped that if any changes are made in its proportions they will be in the nature of additions rather than subtractions.

The budget as it will be submitted to the committee is the result of much study on the part of the library board and staff, and the board states that the amount asked for "is the minimum on which the system can operate in 1921."

That of itself ought to be assurance enough that no attempt will be made to shave the amount to smaller proportions, and that the appropriation called for will be recommended without question.

Statistics show that in many of the southern cities, such as Louisville, Chattanooga, Memphis, Knoxville, Jacksonville, etc., the appropriations for library purposes average 1.5 per cent of the city's total revenue, while in Atlanta it averages only .9 of one per cent.

This indicates the extent to which Atlanta is starving an institution which of all our public facilities, is second only to the schools in point of value to the masses of the city.

To tighten the municipal purse strings against an institution of this kind—one that, despite the handicaps of insufficient revenue, is doing such remarkable work for the development of character and the improvement of Atlanta's citizenship—is not economy, but extravagance of the most indefensible sort.

It is to be hoped that the 1921 finance committee will not commit itself to such a policy.

If it must trim, let it trim from some department that can sustain it without causing the popular injury that would result from the further crippling of the library plant.

A WANT AD'S WORK.

The value of the want ad and its far-reaching influence as a result-bringer were never better illustrated than in the case of Decatur, Ga., the recent appointment of whose city manager was due directly to want ad advertising.

The following extract from The Constitution's announcement of the appointment tells the story:

In compliance with a provision of Decatur's amended charter, the recently elected board of commissioners early last November advertised for applicants for the post of city manager, employing the "want ad" columns of the three Atlanta daily newspapers, and of one of the leading newspapers in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Richmond, Chicago, and St. Louis.

Responses soon began pouring in from far and wide, a total of more than 500 being received, and among them almost every state in the union was represented.

The want ad did it!

It reached the right readers, and as the qualifications necessary to the filling of the position were clearly set forth, it obtained the right responses.

Its appeal was largely to efficiency and experience in a particular line of public service; and though, because it was a want ad, it had innumerable readers, only those who felt competent to meet its requirements replied to it.

That demonstrates the clear-headed want ad's real value. It is as varied as the wants of the people who watch and wait for it, and who never overlook its opportunities.

It is the all-around, helpful little message of the morning that has something to say to those that are eager to hear it.

Your particular want ad is practically sure to be in the columns of your daily newspaper—if not today, tomorrow; and knowing what you want, as to buying or selling, or employment seeking, you make selection from columns of ample opportunity.

As a saver of trouble and expense, and the worry incident to the daily needs of a community, the want ad is a wonder-worker.

It is the shopper that saves shoe leather and gets the best bargains.

And it has been the stepping stone of many to greater things. It goes in for results, and gets results.

SAVE THE FORESTS.

Responsive to a movement started some time ago to bring about official federal recognition of the physical value of the south's timber and water power resources, a bill has been introduced in congress calling for an appropriation for the establishment of a forest experiment station to serve the southern Appalachian watershed, preferably at Asheville, N. C.

This measure is now before the house subcommittee on agriculture.

It is a meritorious measure, one providing for an institution that is badly needed, and the best interests of the whole country will be served if its purpose is carried out.

At a recent convention of the North Carolina Press Association the plain truth of the situation was correctly stated in a set of resolutions adopted in behalf of the southern forest experiment station bill, which set forth that—

"the forests of North Carolina and eastern and southern Appalachians are one of the country's greatest natural assets and are being rapidly wasted by unscientific and wasteful policies."

In view of this condition, it was resolved that the association—

"earnestly recommends, and will give its best efforts to the establishment of a forest experiment station at Asheville as outlined in bills now before congress; and in addition to this we urge the necessity for the establishment of the forest experiment station not only at Asheville, but second in New England, and a third in the Gulf coast region."

In support of the purpose underlying this action by the newspaper publishers of North Carolina—which obviously is concurred in by the press and better sentiment of the south generally—N. Buckley, secretary of the Asheville Board of Trade, a few days ago sent a letter to the secretaries of the various southeastern and southern chambers of commerce and state-wide development organizations, urging organized activity on their part in behalf of this movement; and in which the following pertinent argument was advanced—

"The rapid depletion of our forests is alarming to those who look ahead and unless some measures are taken to prevent the present wasteful, unscientific and extravagant destruction of forests to turn them into money, the money so accumulated, within a quarter of a century, will not be worth 50 cents on the dollar, if that much. For surely the value of our dollars is based on the value of our natural resources and especially forest and water supply, and with those two natural resources destroyed, there is not much else to value."

Mr. Buckner is right; and in requesting each recipient of his letter to "write letters to the press in your section and to prominent people, urging their support of this measure," he expressed a suggestion that might profitably be acted upon by every citizen in this section of the country.

The time is coming when the vast and invaluable forest and water power resources of this region will be largely a thing of the past unless something is done to conserve them.

Conservation measures of the character contemplated in the pending bill have been applied in various sections of the western watershed and in the northeast, and with more than gratifying results; and the same thing ought to be done here, in a section whose scenic beauty and richness in mountain resources are unsurpassed anywhere upon this continent.

And now comes The St. Joseph News-Press with this: "Prohibition is making a sturdy race of the American people. They can now stand up under drinks that would have been fatal a year ago."

The federal officers pour the product of the moonshines stills in the gutter, which may be why so many gutters are down and out.

If ever has a moment of leisure Senator Harding may dictate a magazine article on "Great Minds at Marion."

Marietta, Ga., January 1, 1921.

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. BRANTON.

Hunting for a Rose.
I
Glad you ain't a-livin'
In the kingdom of the snows.
For you're holdin' hands with Winter.
An' he's huntin' for a rose.
II
Spring comes to see him—
Taken to the picnic.
An' she sings along the way.

III
Light time an' bright time.
Hear the children shout!
An' don't let a bleak wind
Blow the sunshine out!

Takes His Own Medicine.
In the opinion of The Kansas City Times, an advertisement in The Cameron News-Observer seems to be a first aid to farmers to get rid of superficous stock and become philanthropists all at the same time: "Horse meat for sale. By parcel post. Tough but wholesomes and clean. Not extremely old. Frozen, will keep. I eat it. If traveling in Europe you would, too. Try it and give the money saved to startin' children there. R. H. O'Neill, Route 6, Cameron, Mo."

If Joy Would Play the Fiddle.
Is the feller that I meet,
Joy would play the fiddle.
An' make him shake his feet!
He'd lose his time an' chance
If you only made him dance.
He'd see a lot's sunshine
If he got a sweetheart-kiance!

He's a gray, an' lonesome feller
Till he finds a happy show
To prove that he is willin'
For to trip it—heel-an'-toe!
O there's his time an' chance
For to go it in the dance.
An' he'd be glad forever
If he got a sweetheart-glance!

Talk About "Trouble"—!
This question, by The Columbia Missourian, will make 'em sit up and take notice:

"Do the advocates of the blue Sunday law intend that mother shall be relieved of responsibility for the big Sunday dinner-chicken, curried celery, cranberry jelly and cake?"

Omaha New Year Note.
"We were relieved of the trouble of swearing off this time," says The Adams Enterprise, "by the fellow who stole the Hootch we had him out. But if ever we meet up with him it'll be 'Goodbye old world' for him!"

JOY
Like a mother's crooning lullaby,
When her heart is brooding in dreams;
Like the fluttering fall of petals,
Or dew on silent streams;
Like filmy, visioned yearnings,
That float from dreamy bowers;
Like pensive shadows o'er a lake,
Or laggard wind o'er sleeping flowers;

So fell joy upon my spirit,
With tender, restive touch.

Then it welled to surging strength,
Like a front that bursts its source;
My spirit armed with conquering power.

To brave the unknown course.
How to share it, spendthrift, happy wise.

In the heart of me I pondered,
When gushed from the pent-up current,

The vibrant answer, wondrous:
"Love the world—heal its wounds!"

—CECILE WILLINK.

Atlanta, Ga.

Pioneers in Artesian Well Development

Editor Constitution: Your fine editorial on the "Worthy Memorial" dedicated to the worthy accomplishment of the late John P. Fort, the enterprising public-spirited and progressive citizen of Georgia, should be copied by the intelligent and leading papers of San Francisco. Your editor offers Colonel Fort as a worthy object of admiration and a subject for study and emulation by the ambitious and hopeful developers. Your paper always so happily encourages.

The writer had the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Colonel Fort, and we held conversations on geological and related topics. He informed me of plans and details of his intended artesian well project in Georgia. I felt certain of his success, and on the completion of his artesian well he sent me a gain in the later for analysis.

Soon thereafter a well was bored at Albany, Ga., and on reaching water Hon. Robert Bacon, the father-in-law of your prominent townsmen Mr. Walter G. Cooper, sent to my laboratory at Shorter College, Rome, Ga., a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr. Bacon wrote on receipt of my report of analysis that it was the first person who had yet reported the water to him. A month after I received another letter from him informing me that Professor Remsen had reported and our analysis exactly the same. We differed by one and one-half grains.

You may well say that "in pioneering the way to artesian water supply for south Georgia Colonel Fort made himself one of Georgia's greatest benefactors. Now almost the whole of the coastal plane is supplied with artesian water."

The writer from the "Newspaper of the Month" of the Mooseheart Home, Illinois, writes: "The water is good."

In addition to the water for analysis, he sent me a sample of the water for analysis. He had sent a sample also to Professor Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University. I found the water to be pure and health giving. My analysis was qualitative and quantitative complete. Mr.

HARDING RESIGNS AS U. S. SENATOR

President-Elect Writes Resignation Letter to Newly Elected Republican Governor of Ohio.

Marion, Ohio, January 9.—President-elect Harding resigned today as United States senator from Ohio, forwarding his letter of resignation to Columbus for action of the newly elected republican governor, Harry M. Davis, who assumes office tomorrow.

The move was in accordance with the president-elect's announced purpose to give up his senate seat as soon as change in the state administration would admit the appointment of a republican successor. Governor-elect Davis has indicated that Frank B. Willis, elected senator for the term beginning next March, would be named to fill the vacancy.

The inauguration ceremonies on March 4 may include a ceremony unique in history of such affairs as was indicated today, when it became known that Mr. Harding had proposed a plan to have all the members of the electoral college in Washington for the occasion. The proposal was made by the group of electors, who suggested at first that all republican electors be invited, and later modified the plan to include an invitation to republican electors alike.

Such a meeting would have no formal nor legal significance since the actual casting of ballots by the electors will be done in their respective state capitals, and they will be canvassed by congress more than a week in advance of inauguration day.

Two division appropriation measures and reorganization of the executive department of the government were requested by Mr. Harding today, with Senator Smoot of Utah, who has made a close study of all of these subjects.

Columbus, Ohio, January 9.—Although the resignation of President-elect Harding as United States senator had been received by Governor-elect Harry M. Davis at his hotel here tonight, it was announced at his headquarters that acceptance of the resignation and appointment of a successor to fill the vacancy would be among the first acts of the new governor following his inauguration tomorrow.

GREATEST WIRELESS STATION IS BEGUN

Sainte-Austre, Department of Seine et Marne, France, January 9.—Louis Deschamps, under-secretary of state for posts and telegraphs, laid the cornerstone today of what is expected to be the most powerful radio station in Europe, capable of transmitting with two sending instruments 24,000 words hourly, or receiving and deciphering simultaneously 50,000 words hourly on five instruments. The alternating system will be used.

The La Fayette station, which now in the main range of 15,000 miles, but experience has shown according to the ministry of telegraphs that it can be depended upon for more than 4,500 miles regularly, is regarded as, for instance, to work satisfactorily with Argentina. The said wireless station when completed in 1923 will be calculated to work easily and regularly with all stations in the world.

A station will be erected for The Compagnie Générale Télégraphique Sansfil (General Wireless Telegraph company). Thirty per cent of the capital invested in the company is English, the remainder French. The French Cable company holding 20 per cent of the total capital. The company has a working agreement with the American Radio corporation.

The striking physical features of the plant will be sixteen steep towers, each 100 feet high, a number of special telegraph wires will connect this station with the telegraph offices.

Captain George R. Evans, assistant naval attaché to the American embassy in Paris, represented the United States navy at the ceremony today.

MORTUARY

Mrs. W. P. Welch.

Athens, Ga., January 9.—(Special) —Mrs. W. P. Welch, wife of the late W. P. Welch of this city, died here today, after an illness of several days. She was one of the most prominent women in the state, and for many years was president of the local chapter Daughter of the Confederacy. On account of ill health she gave up the active presidency and was elected to the state chapter honorary president-for life. Mrs. Welch was one of the most active supporters in all movements for the confederacy, giving liberally to those causes intended to benefit confederate soldiers. She also was one of the largest contributors in the community to all worthy and deserving charitable causes. Mrs. Welch was a sister of the late Captain James White and Judge John R. White. She was in her eightieth year, and leaves one son, John W. Welch. The funeral exercises will be held Saturday morning, at 11 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church.

Appropriate Wedding Gifts.

A wedding gift presented in one of our boxes or cases will be doubly acceptable to the bride for she will know you wanted her to have the best.

Gifts in our line are not only handsome and appropriate, but are serviceable and durable.

You will find in our stock a wide assortment of values which will enable you to select a gift which will suit your requirements exactly.

Write for a copy of our twenty-fifth annual catalogue.

Mail orders sent prepaid. Safe delivery guaranteed.

Maier & Berkele, Inc.
Gold and Silversmiths
Established 1887
31 Whitehall St.
Atlanta, Ga.

FINE BRIDGE ON THE DIXIE HIGHWAY

Concrete bridge over Flint river between Montezuma and Oglethorpe, on the Dixie highway, and a main connecting link of state routes Nos. 26 and 29. The total length of the bridge is 1,855 feet, made up of concrete approaches 1,295 feet long and a steel span 360 feet in length over the river. The bridge was built by the state highway department at a cost of $169,466.91. The total length of bridges completed or now under construction by the department is twelve miles. There are 1,162 miles of state highways being built, which, taken together with the bridges, involve a total expenditure of $15,512,954. Reports of the splendid progress in road and bridge building were made Saturday night at the annual meeting of the state automobile association by W. R. Neal, state highway engineer, and C. M. Strahn, chairman of the state highway board.

LEGIONNAIRES MEET TONIGHT TO SAVE STARVING CHILDREN

CALL TO LEGIONNAIRES.

Members of American Legion in Atlanta:

It is up to us legionnaires to raise the funds for the starving children of central Europe. Atlanta has called on us to do this work. A committee has been formed to be held this evening at the chamber of commerce, when the campaign will be mapped out.

The campaign, which has already been pushed not only in Atlanta, but in every city of the country, in an effort to save from actual starvation more than three million orphans of Europe.

"One dollar is required to save a child's life," is the slogan of the drive, it is touching the hearts of thousands of Americans each day.

Notwithstanding that the drive has not yet been actively begun, many $10 donations have come in, including $100 from E. C. Black, chairman of the Atlanta committee.

"But we need the big gifts," declared Mr. Black. "If Atlanta is to do her part, this city is already far behind many others."

The appeal for troops came from Acting Mayor T. E. Mosley. The soldiers were sent from Pine Bluff in motor lorries.

JAPAN AND CHINA ABLE TO AGREE, AFTER SHOOTING

Tokio, Japan and China, according to newspaper reports, have concluded an agreement closing the incident at Nikolayevsk, Siberia, last spring, when a Chinese warship fired on Japanese subjects during the fighting with Russian partisans, during which several hundred Japanese were reported to have been killed.

The Chinese government and also the officers of the warship, the newspapers say, will apologize, and China will pay 30,000 yen as compensation to the families of the Japanese killed.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICAB

RED TOP CALLOSUS PLASTER

removes hard growth by painless absorption, takes out swelling and soreness, relieves pain and restores comfort—its simple, easy to apply.

Conforming to the shape of the foot. Many applications in each "handyroll." Sold by

SOROSIS SHOE DEPI

Price 35c.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICAB

For Winter Play Times Farther South

For Street Wear on Warm, Spring-Like Days Delightful New Hats Are to Be Found Here

$10.00 The Millinery Section $15.00
Second Floor
Is the Best in the South

The conceptions of the mode in hats are varied and delightful this year and the offerings we show are the same you are asked to pay a great deal more for elsewhere. One thing you are always certain of in dealing with this department, "EXCLUSIVENESS." You do not purchase a hat here and then find twenty others like it on the street.

The hats we call your attention to today are developed from Taffetas, Satins and Straw combinations. The shapes and styles are distinctive and attractive, the finishing touches are artistic and give that chic air of correctness so greatly to be desired. There are trimmings of flowers and buckles, ornaments of various sorts and the colors include Henna, Pheasant, China Blue, Navy and Tete de Negre.

The prices at which we quote these hats are not by any means indicative of their quality.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

UNABLE TO "MUSH" OVER SNOW LANDS

Lieutenant Farrell, Member of Balloon Party Lost in Canada, Is Being Brought to Civilization on Sled.

Mattei, Ont., January 9.—Information tonight was lacking in regard to the three American naval balloonists who are returning from Moose Factory, near where they descended December 14. The time of their arrival is still problematical.

George McLeod, one of the Indian guides who brought the aeronauts' dispatches here from Moose Factory, said tonight he doesn't believe they will arrive until tomorrow.

The Indian said eleven days the time consumed by his party in covering the distance along the Mississippi from Moose Factory, was a record. It usually takes two weeks to make the trip, he added.

Lieutenant Farrell, the Indian continued, is being brought back on a sled especially fitted for the purpose. He suffered more from exposure than his companions, and was too weak to "mush" with the others.

Newspaper correspondents who gave up hope that the party would arrive at Cochrane over the Attribut trail arrived here today. None of the scouts sent out by them had returned.

Official documents from Washington for the naval aeronauts are in care of a member of the royal Canadian mounted police who are ordered to wait at this point.

Factor Major of the Hudson Bay

Company, said tonight that Oliver Marks, the Indian guide leading the party would be compelled to make numerous detours. He said he was certain that trail would be followed because the Indians would be ordered to do so before they left Moose Factory. They would make their last camp at Skunk Island, 20 miles from Moose Factory.

The balloon in which the officers made the flight probably will be recovered and brought out on the Endeavour, a company's name Nascopie next summer, MacLeod said.

Milder weather prevailed in this vicinity today, the temperature rising to 10 degrees above zero.

At Helen in White county, the terminus of the G. and W. rail-road, and that many negroes had been shot there. The governor will be asked to offer rewards and send troops, if the trouble does not subside.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT FATAL TO JUDGE

Tuska, Okla., January 9.—Ralph E. Campbell, formerly United States Judge for the eastern district of Oklahoma, accidentally shot and killed himself here today. In closing his desk in an office, putting the top work of a discharged revolver, the bullet instantly killing Judge Campbell.

WEAK WOMEN

cannot hope ever to become strong and well again unless they have plenty of good, rich red blood of the kind that circulates—Nascent iron-making blood. Some are born with this red blood, revitalize worn-out exhausted nerves, and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people are using it. All over the country it is the favorite remedy of physicians. The genuine has N.I. stamped on every tablet. Always insist on having the genuine.

NUXATED IRON

For Red Blood, Strength and Endurance.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICAB

ADJUSTMENT BOARDS SUBJECT OF HEARING

Both Sides of Question to Be Aired in Chicago This Week.

Chicago, January 9.—The railway labor board hearing into the demands of the railway brotherhoods that the national boards of adjustment created during federal control of the roads to adjust rules and working conditions be re-established will begin tomorrow with the representatives of the brotherhoods and of the railroads prepared to submit statistics on the subject. The roads will contend that the boards should not be re-established.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

Plans to combat any attempt by the railway brotherhoods to continue their fight for collective bargaining and the closed shop through the national boards of adjustment will be made at a session of state manufacturers' associations here Wednesday.

More than 400 delegates from twenty states are expected to attend.

EDITED BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

DOVE OF PEACE HOVERING OVER BASEBALL MEETING AND EVERBODYY'S HAPPY

Chicago, January 9.—Possibility of a further disagreement in professional baseball, either between the two major leagues or between the majors and the minors, apparently was swept away today through statements of policy made by representatives of the two groups which indicated that the joint meeting to be held Wednesday would find them in agreement upon all points in the reorganization of the game.

President Ban Johnson of the American league, permanently set aside rumors that another fight might break out between the National and the American leagues over the proposed new national agreement by officially announcing that the American league was ready to sign the agreement drawn up in New York which makes Judge Kenney M. Landis baseball commissioner with supreme powers. President Johnson and other major league representatives also signified their willingness to concede points demanded by the minor leagues so that the smaller organizations could operate under its aegis.

The National league, which was instrumental in furthering the reorganization, has already ratified its approval of the New York agreement, and President Johnson's statement thus assured its acceptance.

Demand of Minors.

The chief demand of the minor leagues, which will meet tomorrow, concerns the demands in the government of the men with whom a baseball commissioner who would meet their approval would be selected to succeed Judge Landis whose term expires seven years hence.

President Johnson tonight said all of the baseball club owners he had talked with were willing to give minors a voice in the selection of any future baseball commissioners and that the National league club owners expressed the same opinion.

Georgia Tech Quint Faces Hard Schedule For Season

BY WALLACE GEORGE.

With the preliminary training work all over, the Yellow Jackets have entered into their regular schedule in fine shape. They have a hard season ahead of them and only the hardest of work and steady drill practice will bring them to a point where they can make a clean sweep of the list of their opponents. But the Tech men are figuring on doing this and it is the only place where they will work on the hardwood court during the month of December and the early days of January.

With veteran coach Joe Bean heading the crew of the Yellow Jackets, they are assured a good team if the material is even half-way good. He has been coaching basketball teams just about as long as the popular indoor game has been known around these parts and he has success with him because he handles the Athletic club team speaks for the Tech students have a great respect for his ability to produce the goods.

Under the guiding hand of Coach Bean the work of the team has gone forward in leaps and bounds. Taking advantage of the splendid array of talent on hand, he put together a team of six before he picked his varsity squad. Then he picked eleven men from the large number of candidates, including the six letter men, two or three of last year's reserves, and the remainder of new men to the Tech basketball work. His appointment some time ago as varsity coach of the Tech basketball team has been a delight on the local campus, for the Tech students have a great respect for his ability to produce the goods.

Under the guidance of Coach Bean the work of the team has gone forward in leaps and bounds. Taking advantage of the splendid array of talent on hand, he put together a team of six before he picked his varsity squad. Then he picked eleven men from the large number of candidates, including the six letter men, two or three of last year's reserves, and the remainder of new men to the Tech basketball work. His appointment some time ago as varsity coach of the Tech basketball team has been a delight on the local campus, for the Tech students have a great respect for his ability to produce the goods.

With Jimmy Brown, Buck Flowers goes from the guard position to the center, and the hole. Jimmie Vail, who topped his competition until mechanical troubles forced him to withdraw, won a 100-mile run in the automobile race to-day from Tompkins, Milton, and Hearn. Vail's time was one hour thirty-one minutes. The contest was over a one-mile earth track.

With Jimmy Brown, Buck Flowers goes from the guard position to the center, and the hole. Jimmie Vail, who topped his competition until mechanical troubles forced him to withdraw, won a 100-mile run in the automobile race to-day from Tompkins, Milton, and Hearn. Vail's time was one hour thirty-one minutes. The contest was over a one-mile earth track.

Signals Helping.

The signal practice stressed by Coach Bean is proving a valuable help to the Tech team. When the national basketball tournament was held here last March the Atlanta fans saw the value of the true sense of the words. The running and shooting of the better teams was exceptionally good and the locals' game should be much improved next year just because of the lessons learned from attending these games.

With experienced men to work with and some regular court for practice and practice work, the Tech team is sure to be well prepared for some fast goal-shooting.

With Jimmy Brown, Buck Flowers goes from the guard position to the center, and the hole. Jimmie Vail, who topped his competition until mechanical troubles forced him to withdraw, won a 100-mile run in the automobile race to-day from Tompkins, Milton, and Hearn. Vail's time was one hour thirty-one minutes. The contest was over a one-mile earth track.

Realty Dealers May Organize Statewide Body

Real estate dealers and other business men will meet in Atlanta today to consider the advantages of an association of Georgia real estate men. The meeting will be held at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning in the assembly room of the Piedmont hotel, on the ninth floor.

Executive committees of the National Association of Real Estate Boards will convene Tuesday to consider many problems of national importance. Sessions will last through Friday.

After the sessions end Friday the visiting real estate men will leave, it is stated, for a trip covering south Georgia and Florida.

The visitors will be entertained by a luncheon at 1 o'clock. The afternoon session to consider the Georgia association will begin at 6 o'clock, and at 8:30 o'clock will be given over to an open discussion of business and realty conditions.

WELFARE WORKERS NAME FLORIDIAN AS NEW SECRETARY

The Juvenile Protective Association of Atlanta has engaged the services of Rev. John W. Mathison, general secretary for the coming year, according to a recent announcement by the association.

Dr. K. E. Grayson, formerly connected with Juvenile welfare work in Bristol, Tenn., will Monday begin a tour of a number of Georgia cities to recruit workers for the welfare organization.

Coach Bean believes in taking no chances and will keep his charges at high speed from the first game of the year until the last.

SELL ROGER HORNSBY FOR NO PRICE—RICKEY

Houston, Texas, January 9.—Information received here late today from Orange, Texas, confirmed that the St. Louis Cardinals have recently received an offer of $200,000 for Roger Hornsby.

The report was made further that the New York Giants made the offer and it was refused because the St. Louis team was to barter Hornsby for dollars.

According to the report, the original offer was made for $250,000. This was later increased to $200,000 when Rickey informed the would-be purchasers that he would not sell the player for half a million.

South Will Have Baseball Season Of 154 Contests

Nashville, Tenn., January 9.—The Southern association will play a 154-game schedule this year, if the recommendation of the state committee, which met here yesterday, is adopted at the annual meeting of the Southern association magnates to be held in February. The season opens April 1, and closes September 17. Copies of the proposed schedule were forwarded to President Martin at Memphis.

Racing Battle In New Orleans To Begin Today

New Orleans, January 9.—The first skirmish between District Attorney Marr and officials of the Business Men's Racing association will be held in the criminal district court with Judge Humphries as referee keeper tomorrow morning.

Will Meet Demands.

August Herrmann, of the Clinton club, and President John Heydler of the National league, also arrived tonight and both expressed the desire that the court would meet the demand of the minors framing the national agreement, and that every club in Oregon, as Clarence Howland, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, and now manager of the Columbus American association club, and Cal Ewing, of the Pacific Coast league.

President Heydler also announced that one of the first things to come before the racing leaders after the grandsons were signed would be a proposal which he would make that all umpires share in the world series receipts on a percentage basis.

Some time ago the racing officials had voted to increase the price of admission to the World Series, would however, receive more than those who did not, he said.

Some time ago the umpires petitioned the national association to make more pay, but no action was taken.

Tuesday the two major leagues will meet and Wednesday the minor minors will go into joint session.

The major league schedule committee finished its work today and will present its draft of the schedule to the national association Tuesday for ratification. The schedules provided that both leagues open April 13, and each league will have a season of 154 games.

If Judge Humphries refuses to continue the trial of the racing officials and organizers on these grounds, the defense is expected to ask for time to prepare its defense, and with the exception of the act alleged in the information filed by the district attorney do not violate the Locke law, as demanded by the racing officials in the case against Jefferson parish criminal last Friday.

Judge Humphries refuses to continue the trial of the racing officials and organizers on these grounds, the defense is expected to ask for time to prepare its defense, and with the exception of the act alleged in the information filed by the district attorney do not violate the Locke law, as demanded by the racing officials in the case against Jefferson parish criminal last Friday.

With this limited number he put in the whole of his racing career, the racing officials were determined to whip the best five into shape for the Mercer game Saturday night. The whole of the varsity team had to race to lay their wares and every day saw a new selection of a quintet, termed the first varsity. As the game approached, of course, the changes were determined, and the team met the season's open represented the five fastest and likeliest men available.

One accident befall the squad during the time that sort of cast a damper on things. It happened on last Thursday when Jimmy Brewster took a quick turn and broke a blood vessel in his ankle. Jimmie Vail, who was a "peach" of a forward last season, had been counted on a regular again, despite the stiff competition from the rest of the team. The accident may keep him out the rest of the week, but when he does return he will be ready for some fast goal-shooting.

With Jimmy Brown, Buck Flowers goes from the guard position to the center, and the hole. Jimmie Vail, who topped his competition until mechanical troubles forced him to withdraw, won a 100-mile run in the automobile race to-day from Tompkins, Milton, and Hearn. Vail's time was one hour thirty-one minutes. The contest was over a one-mile earth track.

WON'T GIVE OUT DATES FOR SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Nashville, Tenn., January 9.—The southern committee of the Southern association met here Saturday and drafted a tentative schedule which calls for opening April 13 and close September 17. The committee refuses to give out any details of the proposed schedule.

COLUMBIA SWIMMERS BEAT JOHNS HOPKINS

New York, January 9.—Columbia swimmers defeated Johns Hopkins in a dual swimming meet here Saturday night, 36 points to 17.

IRA VAIL IS WINNER IN 100-MILE AUTO RACE

Hanford, Calif., January 9.—Ira Vail, who topped his competition until mechanical troubles forced him to withdraw, won a 100-mile run in the automobile race to-day from Tompkins, Milton, and Hearn. Vail's time was one hour thirty-one minutes. The contest was over a one-mile earth track.

Realty Dealers May Organize Statewide Body

During the short trip from the station to his hotel, O'Callaghan's automobile was involved in a collision that saw Sinn Fein and American flags.

Crowds gathered before the hotel, and O'Callaghan, according to their appearance on a balcony. He spoke of his trip from Cork as a stowaway, expressed appreciation for the welcome accorded him, and said he probably would remain in America several months.

O'Callaghan said Ireland would not be his permanent home.

"We don't want home rule; we want nothing but freedom," he declared.

NEGRO IS CHARGED WITH "RAISING" BILLS

Chattanooga, Tenn., January 9.—John Montgomery, a negro, is under arrest and being held here for mail robbery, it was reported yesterday.

Executive committees of the National Association of Real Estate Boards will convene Tuesday to consider many problems of national importance. Sessions will last through Friday.

After the sessions end Friday the visiting real estate men will leave, it is stated, for a trip covering south Georgia and Florida.

The visitors will be entertained by a luncheon at 1 o'clock. The afternoon session to consider the Georgia association will begin at 6 o'clock, and at 8:30 o'clock will be given over to an open discussion of business and realty conditions.

WELFARE WORKERS NAME FLORIDIAN AS NEW SECRETARY

The Juvenile Protective Association of Atlanta has engaged the services of Rev. John W. Mathison, general secretary for the coming year, according to a recent announcement by the association.

Dr. K. E. Grayson, formerly connected with Juvenile welfare work in Bristol, Tenn., will Monday begin a tour of a number of Georgia cities to recruit workers for the welfare organization.

Coach Bean believes in taking no chances and will keep his charges at high speed from the first game of the year until the last.

SPECIALIST PLEASED BY WILSON CONDITION

Washington, January 9.—Dr. Francis X. Dercum, the Philadelphia neurologist, who was called in for consultation during the recent illness of President Wilson, today visited the white house today for the first time in two months, and spent some time with Rear Admiral George Grayson, the president's personal physician.

Dr. Grayson said that no significance was attached to Dr. Dercum's visit, it merely raised the question of the condition of the president.

He said in accordance with the agreement reached several months ago that the Philadelphia specialist occasionally comes to Washington occasionally for consultation.

Dr. Dercum was said by Dr. Grayson to have expressed himself as "immensely gratified" over the condition of the president.

CARPENTIER CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Amsterdam, January 9.—Georges Carpentier, champion heavyweight pugilist of Europe, in an interview in the Telegraaf today regarding his coming fight with the world's champion, Jack Dempsey, expressed optimism over the outcome. He said it would be a hard fight, but that the result was not for him to predict.

"I'm rather inclined to be optimistic," Carpenter declared, "even if it were to occur tomorrow."

He had nothing to offer regarding definite arrangements as to where the fight is to be held.

"Whether I retire from the boxing game depends upon the result of the fight with Dempsey," Carpenter said. "If I lose, I will retire. I will not fight if, not, probably shall go on fighting for some time."

One of the main reasons for his coming to this country is to earn money to visit the land of his birth revealing that Madame Carpenter was born in The Hague.

In an exhibition match last night with the boxer, Lennart, Carpenter astonished the Dutch sportsmen by his cleverness. With the prospects of playing the challenge round and possibly some of the preliminary ties of the Davis cup in this country as well as a rotation of championship fights, he said he would be adopted at the annual meeting.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Beginning with the second match round, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests will hold its annual winter tournament at Pinehurst this month. The tournament proper will open on Monday. The qualifying rounds will be played on Tuesday, the field will qualify in divisional classes of 32 players each, all contestants playing scratch.

On Wednesday, the first match round, on Tuesday morning, will also be played from scratch in all classes and the results of the round will divide each class into two sixteens, comprising the field.

Amusement Directory

THEATERS

MOVIES

Atlanta Theater — Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday (matinees Wednesday). "The Man of Paradise." Thursday, Friday, Saturday (matines Saturday). "Adam and Eve." Wednesday.

Lyric Theater (Keith vaudeville) — See advertisement for program.

Lew's Grand (vaudeville and pictures) — See advertisement for program.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Lyric.) There is a new sensation in the amateur world — "Hammerin' Jim," described as a mysterious discovery of the century, and in Atlanta, for the first time, as one of the big attractions. He is a vaudevillian, and the "Lipstick." Here is a violin that plays at the will of the audience anything requested of it. No one has ever heard him come in contact with the strings. A number is asked for and no matter what that number may be, he can play it. Here is a nervous, baffling, interesting and entertaining novelty.

"Hammerin' Jim" has played all over Europe. Investors have watched it at close range, but no one yet has been able to solve the question how this "Hammered Violin" does its music.

Lew's Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.) Billy Hart and Circus Girls, a big review presented at a gay while by skilled fun, is the latest addition to the grand bill of vaudeville and feature pictures at Lew's Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Lyric Vaudeville presents a galaxy of Lew's offerings, including Frank Burns and Dolly Jordan in their explosive numbers; Eddie and Maybelle in their numbers; Floyd and Maybelle in their numbers; "How's Her Voice?" E. J. Moore, for originality; "The Marvelous 'Daddy' and "The Marvelous Marvelous."

The screen attraction for the opening bill of the week is "The Star Rover."

C. L. KINNETT RETURNS, AFTER CHICAGO TRIP

C. L. Kinnett regional vice president of the Order of Sleeping Car Conductors from the southeastern headquarters in Atlanta after a trip to Chicago, where he assisted in a hearing before the war labor board on a motion for the readjustment of wage and working condition for his organization members.

The hearing was granted under provisions of the federal transportation act of 1920.

LIFE INSURANCE MEN HOLD YEARLY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Atlanta Association of Life Insurers will be held at 12 o'clock noon Wednesday in the breakfast room of the Kimball house. Officers will be elected for the coming year.

Forrest Adair will preside over the meeting upon "The Business Outlook and Its Set It." Mrs. Calisto Conant Hudson, who has considerable reputation as a pianist, will render a pianologue. Luncheon will be served at 75 cents a plate.

NEWSPAPER MAN DIES AT MEMPHIS HOME

Memphis, Tenn., January 9. Michael W. Connally, 65, well-known southern newspaper man, died early today at his home here. During his newspaper career he served on the editorial staffs of the Houston Post, Fort Worth Gazette and Dallas News.

Later he came to Memphis and has been connected with various papers here since 1889.

The Memphis Avalanche, The Memphis Appeal and The Commercial Appeal. At the time of his death he was an editorial writer on The Memphis News-Sentinel.

Prof. Futterer Lectures.

Prof. Futterer, of the colored branch of the Y. M. C. A., largely attended yesterday afternoon when Professor Futterer gave his illustrated Bible lecture on the teachings of the Old Testament concerning Jesus. Announcement was made that payment on completion date is now due. At a early date this payment will be made by the 500 more members. It is the ambition of the Atlanta colored Y. M. C. A. to be the largest and best in the entire country.

THEATERS

ATLANTA THEATER

TONIGHT TUES. AND WED. MATINEE WED.

Richard Walton Tully Presents the Ever Popular

THE BIRD OF PARADISE

ALOYE STORY OF HAWAII

Prices: Nights, $6 to $20. Wed. Mat. 50c to $1.50

Thurs. Jan. 13-14-15 Mat. Sat.

F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest Present the Biggest Comedy Hit in Years

ADAM AND EVA

One Solid Year at Lengate Theatre, New York.

PRICES (all performances): $6 to $2. Seats on Sale Tuesday. Mail Orders Now.

LYRIC

B. F. Keith Van Sickle

TODAY—2:30-5:30 P.M.

"The Haunted Violin"

THE MYSTERIOUS DISCOVERY OF THE GENTUARY.

Dippy Diers

Pantomimist, assisted by E. Bennett

Saxton & Farrell

In "LIGHTS."

Roland Travers

Illustration Extraordinary

THE ORIGINAL

Monarch Comedy Four

CONTINUOUS 1 to 11 Afternoon, 1 to 3 P.M. Night, 10, 30, 40c. Vaudville, 8:30-9:30 P.M.

TODAY, TUES. WED.

BILLY HART & CIRCUS GIRLS

Mile-A-Minute Beauty Review

Class—Beauty—Jazz—Stunts.

FRANK WILLING & JORDAN

In "A Few Pleasant Moments."

FLOYD & MAYBELLE

in "HER VOICE"

E. J. MOORE—MARVELOUS OF OZMONS

SHADOW-STAGE TRIUMPH

JACK LONDON

Supernatural Chronicle,

"THE STAR ROVER"

Mystic! Vibes! Terrible!

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Arrival and departure of passenger trains Atlanta and Southern States and Other Railroads. The following schedule figures published as information and not guaranteed. (Central Standard Time.)

Atlanta Terminal Station.

ATLANTA, BIRMINGHAM AND ATLANTIC RAILWAY

Arrives — Leaves

8:30 am Brunswick-Waycross 7:15 am

8:30 am Tifton-Thomaston 7:15 pm

8:30 am Cordele-Fitzgerald 8:30 pm

8:15 pm Brunswick-Waycross 8:30 pm

8:30 pm New Orleans-Montgomery 8:30 pm

DECELS WILL RUN FOR IRISH HOUSE

First Candidate Has Announced for Seat in the South Irish Parliament Under the New Home Rule Act.

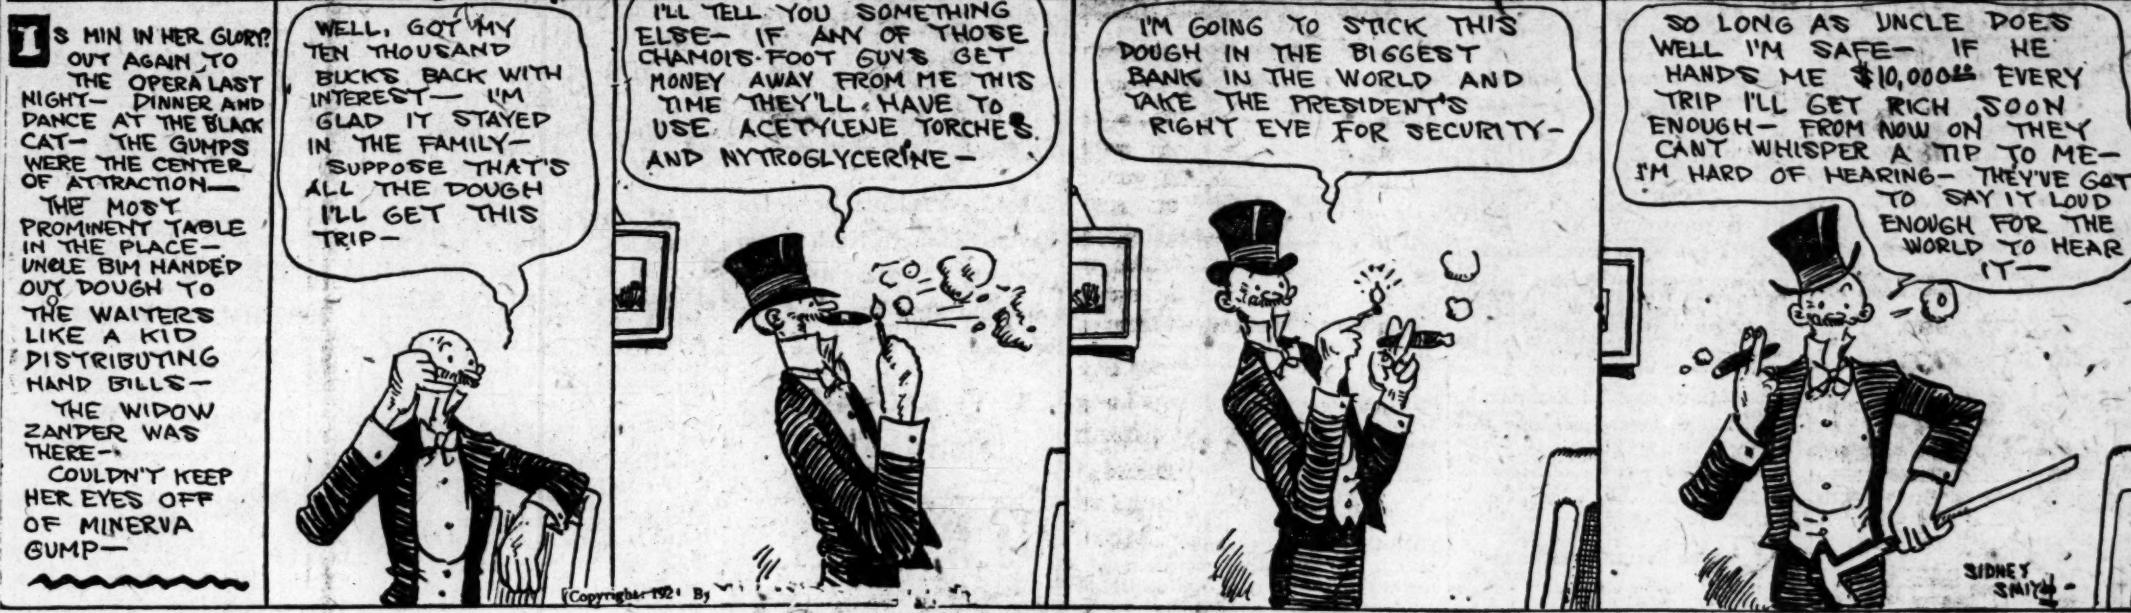

Dublin, January 9.—The first candidate publicly to offer himself for election to the south Irish parliament is Lord Decels, who has written a letter for publication tomorrow in the Irish newspapers in which he admits that the home-rule act is far from perfect, but says "it represents a gift of self-government, which is ours for the asking."

Expressing the belief that the home-rule act can be made still better, Lord Decels announces his purpose of asking some southern Irish constituency to elect him a member of the southern parliament.

"They may refuse me," says Lord Decels, "but I shall feel that I have attempted something practical and done more for Ireland than those who, however sincere their purpose, continue to quarrel indefinitely with an accomplished fact."

The action of Lord Decels is supposed to be part of the plan of the government to encourage willingness to work for the new act, and it is expected that more candidates like Lord Decels will be announced.

Lord Decels is married to Vivien Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, of Lakewood, N. J., early last year. He is a circuit court judge that Lord Decels might become lord lieutenant of Ireland. He is a representative peer of Ireland, and sits in the house of lords.

Catholic Priest Will Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Rev. Father William Quinlan will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the Catholic priesthood in St. Patrick's church in Savannah Wednesday. Father Quinlan was born in Cork, but continued his education in America, graduating from Mary's seminary in Baltimore in 1878. On January 10 of the same year, Father Quinlan was ordained in Augusta by Right

Rev. Ignatius Persico, fourth bishop of Georgia. For many years of his priesthood Father Quinlan served in the Immaculate Conception church, the oldest Catholic church in Atlanta, where he was transferred to St. Patrick's church in Savannah, where he was a most zealous and earnest worker for twenty-seven years. In June, 1896, Father Quinlan returned to Ireland, and became rector of the Immaculate Conception church of this city, where he served nine years, and was then transferred to the missions of the Holy Cross District. He is present chaplain in the Sacred Heart seminary at Sharon Ga.

For the past fifty years Father Quinlan has been ever ready to answer the call to duty, going cheerfully wherever there was a possibility of doing good. During his long service of service Father Quinlan would not accept the pastorate of a parish, but preferred and requested the position of an assistant.

Father Quinlan is the distinguished father of the only priest in Georgia who has lived to celebrate his golden jubilee.

FRENCH WITHDRAW ON TURK ATTACK

Heavy Fighting in Progress Before Aintab. French Prepare Counter Offensive.

Constantinople, January 9.—The Turks are reported to have made several attacks in an attempt to regain Aintab, and the French are said to be withdrawing to stronger positions preparatory to a counter attack. Meanwhile heavy fighting is in progress.

The bolshoviki, it is reported, have decided not to any hostile action against Georgia, as they are unable to carry on their foreign trade through Batum. They consider that they indirectly control Georgia, as that country is absolutely dependent upon Russia for oil, and this economic weapon is deemed adequate to protect bolshovik interests.

A Constantinople dispatch of December 10 said the French had obtained a foothold in Aintab. All the American relief workers in the town were safe, it was added.

MACON BAPTIST TABERNACLE CALLS FORMER ATLANTAN

Mac, Jan. 9.—(Special) The Tabernacle Baptist church of Mac on today extended a call to Rev. Wallace, former pastor of the Woodlawn Baptist church in Augusta, to become pastor of the Mac church. It is not known where he will go or if Mr. Wallace will accept, but he is believed he will.

Mr. Wallace is originally from Atlanta, and is said to be peculiarly fitted for the institutional plan of work carried on by the Tabernacle Baptist church.

Rev. T. W. Callaway, who has been pastor of the Tabernacle for several years, leaves on February 1 for Louisville, Tenn., where he will become pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle of that city.

The most important public matter to be taken up by the committee is the proposal of Mayor Key that an emergency tax of one-half cent be levied by the city council for school purposes. He will explain the needs of the system to the finance board and ask endorsement of his tax plan. He will be accompanied by Judge George Hillman and other prominent citizens, who have announced their intention to appear and fight the plan.

Proposed by the committee is the difference between those who favor an extraordinary tax and proponents of a bond issue method will be offered as a communication from Col. G. M. R. Gordon.

WILL GIVE LECTURE FOR WAR MOTHERS

War Mothers of Fulton County will be guests at a lecture descriptive of European battlefield centers to be delivered at Edison hall, 182 Peachtree street, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Dean Thomas Jones, of St. Philip's cathedral, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe. All War Mothers and relatives of men who rendered war services are invited to attend.

JANUARY BUDGET TO BE CONSIDERED

Mayor Key Will Ask Finance Committee to Endorse Special Tax Levy for School Improvements:

This morning at 10 o'clock the finance committee of city council will meet to begin the task of compiling the January budget—a difficult job because of the many demands for large appropriations, with revenues only a few hundred thousand in excess of last year, which came to a close with a deficit of $100,000.

The most important public matter to be taken up by the committee is the proposal of Mayor Key that an emergency tax of one-half cent be levied by the city council for school purposes. He will explain the needs of the system to the finance board and ask endorsement of his tax plan. He will be accompanied by Judge George Hillman and other prominent citizens, who have announced their intention to appear and fight the plan.

Proposed by the committee is the difference between those who favor an extraordinary tax and proponents of a bond issue method will be offered as a communication from Col. G. M. R. Gordon.

WILL GIVE LECTURE FOR WAR MOTHERS

War Mothers of Fulton County will be guests at a lecture descriptive of European battlefield centers to be delivered at Edison hall, 182 Peachtree street, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Dean Thomas Jones, of St. Philip's cathedral, who has recently returned from a trip to Europe. All War Mothers and relatives of men who rendered war services are invited to attend.

We Pay 4% On Savings

WALLACE BATTLE KILLED.

Wallace Battle, negro, of 22 McGehee street, was shot and killed Sunday morning by Ed Jones, another negro, according to the police. Jones made his escape before the arrival of the officers. The killing took place at 240 Irwin street.

B. Thrifty Says

"ONE dollar opens a savings account; and it's about the biggest dollar's worth you can get today."

You CAN save if you PLAN to save. This bank wants to HELP you save. Start TODAY.

STRENGTH AND SAFETY
Today Last Day
Deposits Made Today Bear Interest From the First at 4%

Trust Company of Georgia

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

53 N. Pryor Street

Capital and Surplus $2,500,000

4% Paid on Savings 4%

4% Paid on Savings 4%